Eni: reorganization of the Gas
 Power segment

The Business Unit Downstream Gas
 Power will be responsible for the development in Italy and abroad of commercial retail and mid gas  power as well as the generation of electricity power.
Rome, 1 July 2013 - Following the reorganization of Enis Gas
 Power activities, approved by the Company's Board of Directors, the Business Unit Optimization
 Trading will be renamed Business Unit Midstream and a new Business Unit Downstream Gas
 Power has been created.
The Business Unit Downstream Gas
 Power, of which Enis Chief Executive Officer, Paolo Scaroni, has been appointed interim head, will be responsible for the development in Italy and abroad of commercial retail and mid gas  power as well as the generation of electricity power.
The Business Unit Midstream, headed by Marco Alverà , will oversee commodity trading activities, supply and oil  gas portfolio optimization, sales on wholesale gas  power markets, midstream LNG commercial activities and commodities transport.
Following the reorganization, the Gas
 Power Division activities will merge into the Business Units mentioned above.
