

Airbus Foundation and Aviation Sans Frontières Provide Relief Goods To The Philippines

Airbus Foundation and Aviation Sans Frontières Provide Relief Goods To The Philippines - Aid Includes Medical Supplies, Clothing and Teddy Bears for Children - Transported On Delivery Flight of Cebu Air's Latest A330-300 - The Airbus Corporate Foundation and Aviation Sans Frontières have transported clothing and medical supplies to Manila from Toulouse aboard the delivery flight of Cebu Air's latest A330-300 aircraft. The aircraft departed Toulouse on 10 March and arrived in the Philippine capital on 11 March loaded with 2.4 tonnes of goods collected by Aviation Sans Frontières and destined for World Vision, the international non-governmental organisation and its Development Foundation. The donations include new clothes and shoes for children and babies, teddy bears, pens and schoolbooks, as well as blankets and medical supplies such as masks, gloves, disinfectant wipes and surgical hoods. These will be forwarded to communities affected by severe flooding and typhoons in the Philippines. Aviation Sans Frontières has been a regular partner of the Airbus Foundation since 2008 for flights from Toulouse. This non-governmental organisation supports Airbus humanitarian ferry flights from France to countries in need or which have been affected by natural disasters. "We are honoured to be working with the Airbus Foundation and Aviation Sans Frontières on our second humanitarian delivery flight. Our acceptance of Cebu Air's sixth Airbus A330 is made more meaningful as we transport much needed relief goods to the Philippines," said Alex Reyes, General Manager, Cebu Air Long Haul Division. "Delivery flights of new aircraft are a perfect way to help deserving causes in our customers' countries. We would like to thank Cebu Air and Aviation Sans Frontières, our partner organisations involved in this project for their logistics support. Without their tireless efforts, this new mission would not have been possible," said Fabrice Brégier, Chief Executive Officer of Airbus. In recent years, the Airbus Foundation has built up a global network of airlines and relief organisations to support international humanitarian causes. Delivery flights of new to be delivered aircraft have been used on numerous occasions to transport goods to destinations in need around the globe. The Airbus Foundation was created to facilitate charitable activities worldwide within an international network of employees and partners. The organisation focuses on supporting humanitarian missions worldwide and youth development in its local communities. Since its launch in December 2008, the Airbus Corporate Foundation has facilitated 40 relief or goodwill flights to numerous destinations around the globe.
