FT ranking: HHL gains international recognition

In the Financial Times' 2011 "European Business Schools?" ranking, HHL - Leipzig Graduate School of Management was rated No. 46 in Europe, which is 13 places better than last year and ahead of a number of international business schools. The full-time M.Sc. in Management (M.Sc.) of HHL came in 17th in Europe in this ranking. The Leipzig-based school therefore ranks among the top-5 business schools in Germany.

The FT ranking is seen by industry experts as the most comprehensive and meaningful league table of executive education in Europe. The overall table is an aggregate of the separate rankings for MBA, M.Sc., EMBA and Executive Education in 2011, evaluations which are based on the salaries and career paths of graduates as well as the structure, internationality and research profile of the schools.

HHL - Leipzig Graduate School of Management

HHL is a university-level institution and ranks amongst the leading international Business Schools. The goal of the oldest business school in German-speaking Europe is to educate effective, responsible and entrepreneurially minded leaders. In addition to HHL's international focus the combination of theory and practice plays a key role. HHL stands out for its excellent teaching, its clear research focus, its effective knowledge transfer into practice as well as its outstanding student services. The school offers an 18-month full-time (24-month part-time) Master program in Management leading to the degree Master of Science (M.Sc.). In addition, HHL has an 18-month full-time (24-month part-time) MBA Program for professionals. An 18-month Global Executive MBA, the 24-month Euro*MBA, as well as a three-year doctoral program, which can also be completed by professionals with the appropriate qualifications, tops off HHL's portfolio of degree programs. HHL's subsidiary HHL Executive GmbH offers company-specific and open enrollment executive education. In April 2004 HHL received the highly-respected accreditation by AACSB International. The maintenance of accreditation for a further five years was granted in April 2009. More information: www.hhl.de
