Financial Times: HHL Offers Best Master in Management Programs in Germany

HHL Leipzig Graduate School of Management offers the best Master in Management programs (MBA and M.Sc.) in Germany. Additionally, HHL's Master Program in Management (M.Sc.) was ranked among the top 10 in Europe for the first time. These results were published today in "European Business Schools 2012", Europe's leading ranking by the Financial Times (FT). HHL Dean Prof. Dr. Andreas Pinkwart says: "With this result, I think HHL is on the way to move up into the league of the top ten graduate schools in Europe over the next few years."

"European Business Schools" by FT is considered to be the most comprehensive and important ranking for Master programs in Europe. It is based on the consolidation of five individual rankings of MBA, M.Sc., Executive MBA as well as open or company-specific on-the-job programs for 2012. The main evaluation criteria are alumni income and career data as well as structure, internationality and research performance of the universities.

The Master Program in General Management (MBA, full-time or part-time) at HHL

The full-time or part-time MBA programs offered by HHL are among the best independently developed programs of their kind in Germany. The proportion of international students in this HHL program is approximately 70 percent, an outstanding figure in the global comparison of full-time MBA programs. Since its introduction in the year 2000, the 12 to 18-month full-time MBA program has focused on teaching management and leadership skills in a global context. This is supported by an innovative curriculum which is no longer structured in a purely functional manner but also follows an interdisciplinary approach in accordance with the challenges of management (Managing Investors, Managing Society, Managing Customers etc.). The cross-functional, stakeholder-oriented approach combines the content of the individual courses and offers students significant added value. This is ensured by 28 lecturers from seven countries. They provide students with an insight into the latest scientific management approaches in a global context.

The practical relation is ensured by teaching content with practical relevance including case studies, a field project accompanying the program or an optional internship abroad. International Management is not only taught but also integral to everyday life at HHL thanks to the international background of the students and professors. The international cross-linking of the program is represented by extensive cooperation with universities abroad. From Australia to Uruguay - HHL has more than 100 partner universities worldwide. The students have the opportunity to spend one term at one of these partner universities. The intensive and professional counseling for students from the initial contact to the alumni network must be emphasized. A Career Service accompanies students from the day they are admitted to the program until the successful conclusion of a job application. The Master Program in Management (M.Sc., full-time or part-time) at HHL

Both in its part-time and full-time version, HHL's English-language Master Program in Management (M.Sc.) covers a wide variety of economic topics and builds on a Bachelor's degree in Economics. HHL attaches particular importance to teaching soft skills. Courses such as Problem Solving & Communication, Negotiation or International Management Competencies represent an inherent part of the training. The 21 to 24-month full-time program (as well as the 24-month part-time program) offers eight fields of specialization, i.e. Finance, Accounting, Marketing, Logistics & Supply Chain Management, Entrepreneurship, Advanced Economics and Advanced General Management. By choosing four electives the students can set a topical focus on the career for which they are aspiring. In addition to a term abroad at one of over 100 universities partnered with HHL, the curriculum of this 21 to 24-month full-time program also encompasses an internship. Excellent business contacts as well as a professional Career Service provide top career opportunities for the alumni.
