

Eni: reorganization of the Gas Power segment

Eni: reorganization of the Gas Power segment
The Business Unit Downstream Gas Power will be responsible for the development in Italy and abroad of commercial retail and mid gas power as well as the generation of electricity power.
Rome, 1 July 2013 - Following the reorganization of Eni's Gas Power activities, approved by the Company's Board of Directors, the Business Unit Optimization Trading will be renamed Business Unit Midstream and a new Business Unit Downstream Gas Power has been created.
The Business Unit Downstream Gas Power, of which Eni's Chief Executive Officer, Paolo Scaroni, has been appointed interim head, will be responsible for the development in Italy and abroad of commercial retail and mid gas power as well as the generation of electricity power.
The Business Unit Midstream, headed by Marco Alverà, will oversee commodity trading activities, supply and oil gas portfolio optimization, sales on wholesale gas power markets, midstream LNG commercial activities and commodities transport.
Following the reorganization, the Gas Power Division activities will merge into the Business Units mentioned above.
